COMMISSION'S ACTION ON DESKS MISUNDERSTOOD

"It is evident that there was a misunderstanding as to the action of the Oahu loan fund commission on the school-desk matter," said Chairman Andrew Adams of the commission to the referring to yesterday's meeting. "The commission did not decide that contractors in giving their figures and making bids on school houses for desks should include the furnishing of desks as part of their bid and of their contract to be performed. This was suggested as a possible way of avoiding the disputes arising because of the desire of local firms handling various types of desks to get the commission to use one type or another. The suggestion, however, was not favored by the majority of the commission as being economical to the taxpayers and the commission decided not to take it up. The commission will therefore proceed as heretofore. If future bids are to be called involving school desks, the local firms being asked to supply the commission with bids on the desks."

Mr. Adams, who retired as chairman of the commission because he is called to the mainland on business, will still remain a member of the commission.

OAHU STOCK VERY ACTIVE

Oahu is the leader of the stocks by a long distance on the market. The Hawaiian Sugar stock, 315 shares selling at 27.75, but only 20 shares were changed on the board. The number of shares lots ranging from 5 to 80. Onomea stock, 55 shares in the board, 55 shares in the selling unchanged at 10.25. Pineapple made the lion's business, 50 shares going up half a point. Necess sales show Hawaiian Sugar dropped a point to 44.50 for 25 shares. Hawaiian Commercial unchanged at 4.50 for 25 shares. Two and a half Paia unchanged at 215.5 shares. Honolulu down a half to 10.25 for 100 shares, and Olaia down eighth at 6.875 for 50 shares.

Bonds are represented by $1000 Kaula Railway bonds up a quarter above par and Hawaiian Irrigation bonds unchanged at 101.

MAUI GIVEN TITLE TO PUBLIC BUILDING SITES

Governor Frear has issued an executive order transferring to the county of Maui a number of pieces of land in that county, principally lots occupied by court houses and jails. The transfer is not a conveyance of title, but merely an assignment of the property for the county's use.

The transfer includes the lots now used for the county jail and court house at Wailuku, the court house and park at Lahaina, the jail at Lahaina, the stable at Lahaina, court house at Nakawao, court house at Hana and Kipahulu, and the court house at Pukoo, on Molokai.

The old Hopper house, at present located on the lot in front of the new city library, is to be sold at public auction September 4. It is a large frame structure and is said to have been built about twenty years ago. It is in good condition, however, and it is thought the purchaser will be able to move it bodily from the premises. The ground there is wanted as a lawn fronting the new library building.

Chairman George Askwith of the industrial commission of the British board of trade will visit Canada, and the United States to study labor.

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

Following is the Democratic city and county slate as announced by Charles (Soapbox) Barron, who, it is understood wrote it but with singular modesty refrained from putting his own name on it. This may be explained, it is said, by the fact that he has aspirations toward the governorship:

For mayor, Joseph J. Fern.
For auditor, L. D. Timmons.
For treasurer, Col. Charles McCarrthy.

For county clerk, John Effinger.
For county attorney, Clem Quinn.
For sheriff, William P. Jarrett.
For deputy sheriff, Charles H. Rose.

For supervisors, Richard H. Trent, president of Trent Trust Company; Edmund Stiles, of the Bank of Honolulu; Richard L. Gilliland, former deputy sheriff at Waianae; Lester Petrie, master mechanic O. R. & L. Co.; William H. McClellan, present supervisor; M. C. Pacheco, chairman Territorial Democratic central committee, and Mr. Markham.

CUPID LAUGHS AT FATHER; COUPLE ELOPE ON BARK RITHET

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Out somewhere beyond the Golden Gate, with his blunt nose headed toward Honolulu, is the bark R. P. Rithet, carrying a bridal couple in the suite de luxe. F. B. Jansen Jr., the 18 year old son of F. Bromley Jansen, an expert accountant living at 2217 Scott street, is the groom, with less than $8 of worldly wealth. The bride, formerly Miss Genevieve Delano Marsh, daughter of Fred D. Marsh, a real estate dealer of 2618 Webster street, is unaware that Jansen's father has forgiven them for eloping in a windjammer to the Sandwich Islands and that he has written a letter containing money and a cordial invitation to return to the paternal roof.

Jansen and Miss Marsh, who have been sweethearts since childhood, were married in San Rafael last Friday afternoon without the knowledge of their parents. They spent the days until last Monday with friends in that town, who were not let into the secret. Monday afternoon Jansen came to San Francisco and engaged passage for himself and bride on the R. P. Rithet, which was to have sailed that evening, giving the name of "Ben nett." He told officials of the Matson Navigation company that he had little money, and also explained that the reason he had booked under the name of "Bennett" was because they were elopers.

"My father will be pretty mad when he hears about it," said Jansen.

Just before the vessel was to have sailed Jansen wrote his parents a letter and sent it by special delivery. He informed them he was going to Honolulu, "where he hoped to make good and make a man of himself." He said nothing of his lovely bride, Jansen Sr.

Immediately started to look for his son, and, calling at the office of the company, learned of the marriage. When he found the couple had sailed yesterday morning, he asked that a wireless be dispatched recalling the vessel. As the bark is not equipped with such an up to date invention, the matter was dropped.

Mrs. Jansen Jr. is a fine musician and is well known in San Francisco musical circles. She is considered one of the most attractive maidens of the younger social set and has a host of friends.

Young Jansen was a student at St. Mary's College in Oakland until several months ago, when he became ill. He was sent to the country, where he again met Miss Marsh, and their romance blossomed forth with renewed vigor.

Jansen Sr. said last night that, while he was angry when he first heard the news, he could not help admiring the grit of a lad who would start across the Pacific with so little money.

"Fred is a fine lad and I know he will make good," said Jansen. "The only objection I have to his marriage is that he is too young to assume such a responsibility. I was to have secured him a good position in a few days, but now I guess I will have to get him a better one. While my wife and myself felt cut up about the affair, we were much relieved to find he had married a fine girl like Genevieve, whom we have known and admired for many years."

Inquiry at the Marsh residence last night was met with a pointblank refusal to talk and it was not learned whether or not the parents of the bride were previously informed of her marriage.

SUGAR MARKET STRONG TODAY

Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., received the following cablegram from their New York office this morning:

"Congress has adjourned with sugar legislation deadlocked. This can be reconsidered by conferees during next session."

"Market strong, advance expected. Next month's shipments from Cuba offered with no change. Favorable weather in Europe."

KNOX'S NAME INVOLVED

says that Roosevelt, in an open letter to Senator Clapp, chairman of the investigating committee, denies the stories of the relations of Standard Oil to his campaign as told by John D. Archbold, and challenged proof. The Associated Press says also that Roosevelt's open letter denies the alleged statement of Secretary Knox that Roosevelt's campaign contribution letters to Cortelyou were "written for the record."

Thus it is that Secretary Knox, on his way to Japan to attend the Emperor's funeral, has become involved in a political sensation the like of which has not stirred the country for a long time. The bitter charges and counter-charges, hurled over these Standard Oil contributions in the 1904 campaign have apparently brought in the name of Secretary Knox as declaring that Roosevelt's letters to Cortelyou were "written for the record."

CONCERNING WALTER JOHNSON.

Take the essence of a Krupp gun double-loaded to the fuse
With a streak of ragged lightning bundled in;
Take a boomerang assortment, padded out to stall the muse,
Or a flash of light parading for a spin;
Take the pellet from a rifle as it ambles on its way
With a hissing, ripping echo through the air—
After which stir well together, and you'll find amid the fray
Outside of this the Big Swede isn't there.

—Grantland Rice.

William H. Force, father of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, denies that Mrs. Astor will contest the will of her husband.

PAID HIS RENT WITH BAD CHECK IS CHARGE

On the charge of passing a forged check on Lau Chong, his landlord, as a rental payment, Isato, a Japanese proprietor of a billiard parlor on Maunaloa street was arrested yesterday by Detective Harry Lake. Tong is accused of filing in a blank check of Bishop & Company for $50, signing it with the name of T. Tanaka. Lau Chong accepted the paper but Bishop & Company declined to receive it when he presented it for payment. The firm declared it, spurious and Lau Chong then carried his grievance to the office of the city and county attorney.

William Henry has filed a petition for discharge from his responsibility as receiver for the Fidelity Insurance Company. He sets forth that after settling virtually all accounts he has on hand $1517.73, also $332 held by a garnishment on the account of Emmet May against the company.
